

Sandmaier to Play Lead In 'Androcles and the Lion'

George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion", will be the first drama production this year held November 15 and 16. Tryouts and casting were completed Sept. 19.

The play has been called "A Comedy of Saintliness" by the critic John Gassner. In it, Androcles, a humble Greek tailor converted to Christianity, has a great love for animals. This love eventually saves him as the lion, which he had befriended by removing a thorn from his paw, refuses to eat his friend in the arena, even though he was a Christian.

The comedy is carried through by Megaera, wife of Androcles, who is constantly quarrelling. Other members of the cast keep up a contrast of characters. The story goes to prove that "Saints differ as much as other men, for saintliness can be sought by both the weak and courageous, by the most intelligent thinkers and the most innocent of heart."

Those in the NWMSC cast are: Bob Sandmaier, Androcles; Jeanine Thompson, Megaera; Leslie Ann Tucker, the Lion; and Cynthia Dalbey, Norman Wilcox, David Martin, Jim McCarty, Warren Schafer, Jeff Falter, Brantly Jackson,

George Fountain, Charles F. Jones, Donna Owens, Bob Grenier, Robert Nelson, Gary Boggie, George Mackey, Leigh Ragle, Dave Anderson, Jerry Pottorff, William Burns.

Warren Mitchell, Carl Frederick, Lanny Camblane, Diane Williams, Sharon Freeman, Vanita Blair, Phyllis White Kathleen Norris, Sheryl Willman, Daren Davidson, Judy St. Peter, Nancy Wayman.

Kathie Johnson, Ruth Schmidt, Mary Land, Neta Russell, Ken Price, Doris Wilson, Shirley Huber, Ina May O'Riley, Mary Evans.

Campus Bowl To Premier October 5

The opening round of Campus Bowl will take place Oct. 5 as two teams match brain power and memory in the beginning of this year's single elimination tournament. According to Tom Whitney, committee chairman, the contest will begin at 4:00 p.m. in CH213.

Answering questions posed by regular faculty MC's Dr. George Gayler and H. Guy Bensusan, Greek and independent teams will vie for BMOC (Brainy men on campus) honors. Alternating with regular MC's will be Gilbert Whitney of the music department, James Johnson, librarian, and Floyd Barrows of the humanities department.

Contests will be conducted in the manner of TV's GE College Bowl. Each team will consist of four members and an alternate. Any group of students may participate but the team roster must be submitted to Mr. Bensusan before Sept. 28.

Dr. Gayler stated that he hopes attendance and interest will remain high so that the contests can continue throughout the semester.

Preparations Underway For 1962 Homecoming

"Broadway Productions", the theme for this year's Homecoming will highlight the college's major social event of the year. Preparation is now in full swing for the event scheduled for October 18, 19, and 20. All entries for the variety show, the parade, the house decorations, or other individual classes, should be turned in to Dr. Harr.

Scripts

The variety show scripts were turned in September 21. Rehearsals begin October 1 in the Horace Mann auditorium from 4 to 6 p.m. Dress rehearsals are slated for October 15, 16, and 17.

This year there will be two divisions, one for men and one for women. Mixed groups will be assigned to one of the above groups according to the majority of the membership. This membership list should be turned in as soon as possible after the first meeting. Cash awards in each division are: first place, $40.00; second place, $30.00; third place, $25.00, and honorable mention $10.00.

Floots

The deadline for submitting ideas and entries for the Homecoming Parade are as follows: beauty float and humor float, Sept. 26, and other parade entries such as clowns and jalopies, Oct. 5. The expense limit on any float is $100. All float ideas, entries, and sketches should be dated.

The entries in the parade will be grouped according to the organization. The two classes will be beauty, and humor and originality. When registering ideas, the section and class in which the organization wishes to compete should be indicated. Any organization may enter one or more floats in each class. The cash prizes for the beauty float are: First place, $75.00; Second place, $60.00; Third place, $50.00, and honorable mention $5.00.

House Decoration

The house decoration idea along with the theme, should be turned in by Oct. 1. The deadline for filing itemized expense account for house decorations is Oct. 19 at 4 p.m. The houses will be judged on Oct. 19 from 7 to 10:30 p.m., for lighting and effects.

On Oct. 20 they will be judged for the general theme. The winner will be a combination of the morning and night judging. Cash awards for this division will be: First place, $40.00; Second place, $30.00; Third place, $25.00, and honorable mention, $10.00.

FRESHMEN

The long awaited freshman identity buttons are finally here and will be distributed at the Thursday night orientation meeting. Dean of Students Charles Koerle said that a 15c charge would be made to cover the cost of the buttons.

Blood Donor Program Revived at Hospital

Volunteers are needed for the blood donor program being reinstated this year at the St. Francis Hospital. The blood will be used free of charge for individuals in the community and on campus who need it.

Those interested in participating please contact Dr. De Vore in Colden Hall, Room 207D.

Election Managers Meet With Lyddon

Student body president Ivan Lyddon has announced a meeting for all candidates and campaign managers of the coming October 3rd election for the purpose of discussing campaign rules and limitations. The meeting will be held in the Gold Room of the Union at 8:30 p.m. or directly following the Student Senate meeting that night.

Gracious and leisurely dining, pleasant conversation with contemporaries, entertaining guests — many people's idea of life in the Home Management House probably goes no farther than this. And certainly these are facets of life here, but much more is included in the Home Economics Girls' term of residence. As a part of the professional semester in Home Economics, the time spent in the Home Management House is a utilization in an actual living situation of all theory and method classes which the girls have taken. Here they are provided with the attractive and efficient setting in which to prove the effectiveness of their skills in social, family and group situations in an efficient and attractive situation.

Come along and let's tour the house, (and it does consist of more than that red-carpeted stair most students have noticed while driving by). The furniture styles used in the house (Continued on Page Three)

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

From The Editor's Desk

And so the vicious circle goes round and round The suitcases are packed every Friday and students start the trek home for the week-end. Consequently, there are no activities for Friday or Saturday nights.

But a group attempted to combat this dilemma. Ted Marr of ISO; Jack Gray, TKE; and Bob Cobb, Phi Sig; cut the red tape and followed all the necessary formalities so that a bus load of students could attend the football game at Peru. Out of the entire student body only one bus load showed any enthusiasm and school spirit. What's wrong with the Bearcats? Homesickness . . . after three weeks.

College Bowl is being reinstated again. But is this venture destined to be another activity to fall to the way side? But at least someone is showing some initiative and daring.

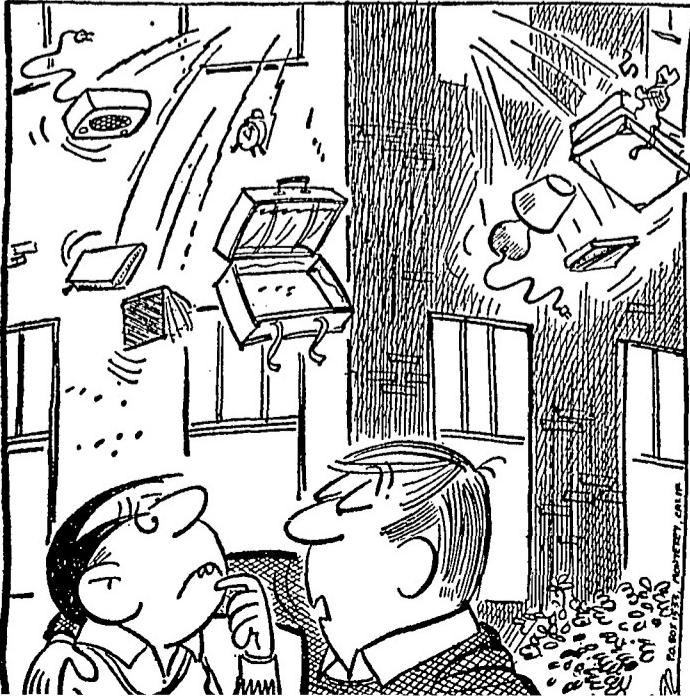

But before the college - be it the administration or individual organization will sponsor any event or activity the students must demonstrate they are mature enough to spend more than five days at school.

Naturally there are a few on campus who are not guilty. But if the shoe fits - wear it and in good health! If by chance you have doubts about the authenticity of this mass exodus to the hinterlands - take a drive Friday afternoon by the main entrance or perhaps it should be "exit". Traffic is at a standstill - stymied as everything else is over the week-end.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Inquiring Reporter

As a means to keep abreast of various discussions prevalent on college campuses throughout the country, the Northwest Missourian has attempted to take sampling.

In explanation to the question for this week, it has been cited that it is the responsibility of the college to guide its students. Some feel they are representatives of the entire student body and faculty alike. But others feel that college age students have reached a point in life when they should be able to judge the good and the bad, the right and the wrong.

And so, we asked "To what degree should the moral lives of college students be regulated?"

Glenda Rose Knott, Coffey, Mo., Sophomore.

"I don't think it should be. I think the kids are old enough to know what they are getting into."

Miss Louise Lovell, home economics instructor.

"I think they should be highly regulated, particularly the first two years of college with a little more freedom the last two years."

Mike Marr, Manila, Iowa, Freshman.

"In my opinion, I think college students are grown-up enough to decide what is off-limits."

Bob Head, Chillicothe, Junior.

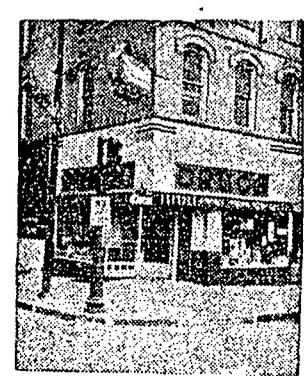

"I think there should be a certain amount of guidance but not hard and fast rules."

Scott Michelson, Kansas City, Sophomore.

"I believe that the college has a responsibility to newer students, particularly, to exercise control on them because it is the first time they have been on their own."

"Well, I think college students should be able to tell right from wrong. Regulations now would be okay if we could just enforce them."

Learn to Write For Money or Fun

Miss Mattie M. Dykes, former English instructor at NW-MSC, is conducting a class in her home at 416 S. Buchanan Street for anyone who has a desire to write for fun or for publication.

The class will meet once a week for ten weeks with Miss Dykes as the instructor.

Informal lecture and class discussion methods will be used in conducting the course with plenty of time for student questions. Assignments will be made, but no student will be limited on what he or she wishes to write.

Miss Dykes will read all written material and criticize it with suggestions for improvement when needed. Anyone interested may call her for information.

Grad Receives $2500 Scholarship

Linda C. Jones has been awarded a library scholarship by the Missouri Library Commission announced Paxton P. Price, state librarian.

A 1962 graduate of NW-MSC, Linda majored in English and minored in Library Science. She was affiliated with the Phi Mu Fraternity.

The scholarship is worth $2,500 to be used to acquire a master's degree in Library Science. The recipients of the scholarships agree to work in rural county and regional libraries in Missouri for two years.

Five Missourians are awarded these scholarships each year.

College Personnel To Teachers' Meet

Dr. J. W. Jones, president and W. M. C. Dawson, Grant City, president of the NW-MSC board of regents, attended the Governor's Council on Higher Education in Columbia Monday, September 10.

Three special consultants met with the council and planned a study of needs and made recommendations for higher education in Missouri. The general purpose of the council was to achieve voluntary administrative cooperation among the State's public universities and colleges.

Upstairs are four bedrooms, a bath, and a sewing room and pressing room. Features of the rooms are lowered closet doors, and deep pile nylon carpets. The rooms are predominantly blue, (painted) and blue root brown (painted).

An exhaust intake in the bathroom removes steam from the tub and shower so that there is no steam in the room.

In addition to these rooms, the Home Management House also includes a basement in which is the laundry area and also a large garage.

Charter members of the Home Management House family are Pat Gillespie, Pat Keller, Mary Ann Kneale, Kay Nickerson and Karen Ruse, whose term of occupation is from Thursday, September 6 to Friday, October 5.

The conclusions of all the girls seems to be that life in the Home Management House is a rich and rewarding experience, one to which they give much thanks and also one from which the gain is prevalent in the area of running a home.

Formal Reception Held for Freshman

On Thursday, September 20th, at 8:00 p.m., a formal reception for incoming Freshmen was held in the J. W. Jones Union Building.

The class of '66 were the guests of the faculty and administration of the college at the reception held in the Gold and Rose rooms on the third floor of the Union.

The Freshmen went through a receiving line where they met President and Mrs. J. W. Jones, members of the board of regents, and members of the faculty. Refreshments were then served to each. After being served, the students were able to meet and talk with their instructors on a purely social basis.

Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

NWMSC'S 7-6 defeat at the hands of the Peru State Bob Cats appeared to be more of a circumstantial happening than a case of opening night jitters.

The 'Cats were well on their way to their initial victory, when a very questionable call reversed the momentum as the BobCats won their second come-from-behind encounter in two games.

Don Daniels carried the ball well on numerous occasions, but the real offensive spark was ignited by a fiery little guy named Bernie Ricono who climaxed a sustained offensive drive by dashing 6 yards to paydirt in the first period.

Ricono was injured and may not see action until the William Jewell contest and his presence in the 'Cat backfield will be sorely missed.

On defense, Ed Whitaker, Roger Voss, and Glen Acksel spearheaded the tackling crew which held the BobCats to 21 rushing yards in the first half.

Student attendance at the Peru game did not quite exceed all expectations, but the spirit and enthusiasm displayed by the NWMSC rooters who were there certainly deserves an "A" for effort.

Most Valuable?

While baseball is rapidly taking a backseat to the gridiron sport in sports headlines these days, the Most Valuable elections will soon be the horsehide topic.

In the National league, we choose the incomparable Maury Wills of the Dodgers for the MVP and slick-fielding Ken Hubbs for NL rookie honors.

For the American League selection, we pick the Twins' homer-hitter Harmon Killebrew as our dark-horse candidate over the slumping Roger Maris and the injured Mickey Mantle.

Tom Tresh, the lanky yankee freshman, deserves the AL rookie award because of his great all-around play and leadership.

To Bo Belinsky of the Angels goes the Screw-Ball of the Year selection for his actions beyond the call of duty.

Just in case you're interested, Kirksville edged Wayne State recently by the close margin of 62-6, which brings us to ask, "Anyone for Tennis?"

MIAA Faces Tight Race

The Northwest Missouri State College Bearcats will face rough competition in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association Conference as all members appear stronger than ever this season.

Bulldogs Return

Defending champion Kirksville should be stronger than last year's team. They have over 25 returning lettermen to form the core of their squad. In their opening game they rolled over Wayne State, Nebraska, by a score of 62-6.

Springfield gave Pittsburg, Kansas, last year's national champions, a rugged battle, but they lost the opener 14-7. They have several regulars from last year's unit and depth at almost all positions.

Cape Girardeau was defeated by a strong Western Kentucky club 28-7 in their opening game. They have a few rough spots, but they have the depth and ability to be a top contender.

Warrensburg will be sitting their aims on spoiling the Bearcat's Homecoming Day with a victory. Spirit and desire help to mold this well-

Swim Team Works Out; Directs Pool

All Northwest Missouri State College students are invited to swim in the college pool on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 p.m. under the direction and supervision of the swimming team.

The program is planned to provide recreation and to keep prospective swimmers in good condition. Anyone wishing to join or inquire about the swimming squad should see Coach Guy Bensusan. Although group practice will not start until late October or early November, swimmers may be working out on their own.

Eight lettermen will lead the team through the meets scheduled to start after Christmas vacation. They include Bob McCoy, Hal Gentry, Ed Atkins, Dick McBride, Gary Foland, E. L. Burch, Dave Ettleson, and Bob Hall.

Several other boys have shown promise in the early swimming this season. These swimmers and divers are John Wilson, Gary Miller, Steve Sypal, Rich Mellencamp, Jim Palumbo, Terry Kremer, Fred Poppa, Eddie Smith, Frank Fisher, Fred Howell, and Chuck Nurek.

Everyone is invited to participate in the co-recreational swim program, rounded team.

Rolla is always tough in conference play, and this year is no exception. Given the breaks, they can upset the best of teams. They have a talented and experienced squad left over from last season's team.

The MIAA sports follower may look for a tight conference race and some real sporting battles.

"Mobile Hall" Moves to Campus

A person never knows when what he says will be taken seriously.

In the course of a conversation with Mrs. Donald A. Bell, wife of Mr. Bell of the Physics Department, President Jones asked her where she and her husband were living. She said "Mobile Hall."

Whether she was serious or not, President Jones does not know. But he thinks it would be a splendid name for the trailer court.

Text Books

All text books have now arrived and may be picked up at the Wells Library textbook room, reports James Johnson, librarian.

The room is open 8:00-9:00 a.m. and 3:00-5:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday.

Mains Gains

Singles Crown

Wayne Mains, of Phi Sigma Epsilon defeated Bob Schaag playing for Sigma Tau Gamma 6-0, 4-6, and 8-6 to garner individual intramurals singles in tennis.

Terry Owens downed Rich Sellers, 6-2, 6-3, in the third place event.

Tau's Lead

According to Larry Hagan, group intramural standings are as follows: Sig Tau's, 173; Phi Sigs, 107; Independents, 53; and Phi Lambda Chi with 26 points.

Hagan reported that eighty-six participants turned out for intramural tennis competition.

Bearcats Fall 21-0 To Ft. Hays

An inability to take advantage of scoring opportunities plagued Northwest State College Saturday evening as the Bearcats fell 21-0 to Fort Hays State on the Kansas gridiron.

The 'Cats were inside the Hays 20-yard line on four occasions, but were unable to penetrate a stiff-necked Tiger line to paydirt.

Dick McBride blocked a Hays punt in the fourth period to give MSC its best opportunity on the Tiger 20, but the Bearcats could not score.

MSC rolled up 110 yards on the ground, and showed an improved passing attack. The 'Cats clicked on seven of 19 aerials for 71 yards.

The game was Fort Hays' season opener. It was the second loss in as many starts for the Bearcats.

Four MIAA conference teams played non-conference foes with two winning and two losing.

Gym Now Open For Recreation

Dr. H. D. Peterson, chairman of the physical education division and Ryland Milner, athletic director, have announced a new policy in regard to free-time activity at Lamkin Gymnasium. Athletics for non-athletes is being emphasized.

All male students will now be provided with the opportunity to make use of the various facilities and equipment in the physical education department. Dr. Peterson stated that an authorized person will be in the equipment room on scheduled hours to check out the equipment.

The gymnasium and equipment room will be opened Monday through Friday and will follow this schedule: Monday, 8-3; Tuesday, 12-4; Wednesday, 8-1 and 2-3; Thursday 12-4, and Friday, 8-1 and 2-3.

Also included in this new policy will be co-educational swimming on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 4-5:30. Dr. Peterson said that about 50 swimmers used the pool opening day, and if interest continues, additional time would be allotted for student use.

Another phase of the new policy will include the downstairs area under the main floor of the gym. The completely new rubberized-asphalt indoor track is now ready for use.

Other facilities included in the lower area are ping-pong tables, smash courts, and a batting cage for baseball.

Wrestling mats will be provided for those who desire to brush up on their grappling techniques. Two hand-ball courts are still in the process of completion. All of the physical education classes will be able to use this downstairs area.

Dr. Peterson stressed that the established policies concerning the use of these facilities should be observed at all times.

MSTA Reports On Placement

A study made of the teacher placements reported by our State Institutions of higher learning during the first six months of 1962 shows that 23.6 per cent of the placements reported were in teaching positions outside of Missouri.

The median salary of placements in Missouri was $4,556 compared to a median salary of $4,830 in positions outside of Missouri.
